-New Orleans Picayune: "In these days febrile sickness it is well to know someing about the virtues of the fever tree for nteracting malaria. It is said that tea ade from the leaves of this tree will instantbring on the most profuse perspiration, nd will maintain it continually until the last estige of fever is eliminated from the sys-m. Mr. Philip W. Dielmann, of Miller & elmann, has been testing this tea in various rinds of fever, and with uniform and wonerful success in every case. His experience ids him to believe that the eucalyptus tea n be made to render the most importan rvice in yellow-fever, for which he especialcommends it as an agent superior to every her of its kind. He has raised on his place number of eucalyptus trees, and will cheerlly give leaves to any one who may desire try them. He has seen a case of chills and fever of two years standing cured with e cup of this tea, and is satisfied that i will do good in any kind of febrile disorder.' -Concerning the probability of Louisville sing visited by the prevailing epidemic, Dr Luke P. Blackburn, in a card to the Courier-Tournal, says: "I hope I may not be charged with wantonly increasing any existing ap prehension on the subject. Fam greatly misunderstood if it be supposed that I assert s appearance in Louisville in an epidemic rm. I simply believe it possible, and have belief that yellow-fever will certainly make one fear of it. I do assert, however, that is acourge will be more extensive and terrie than any that has ever fallen upon the outh, and that it will scourge cities, towns and districts that it has never visited before. o not think it the best policy to assure a mmunity of absolute immunity from a nger. It the blow should fall the panic vill be general and terrible. I think it is etter to teach the people that the danger i rtain extent, avert or mitigate the evil.

EDITORS APPEAL-Pardon my occupying cures dysentery and diarriea, whether arising your time, and asking for space in your colmns, to insert this application from two of our most excellent ministers who reside in his county, and sympathise deeply with our devoted city. They ask me, as moderator of the Presbytery of Memphis, "to recommend, informally, to all the churches within our bounds, on some day of each week, a con-cert of prayer to God for his compassionate nterposition in behalf of the suffering and afflicted here and elsewhere, while the deso-lating plague is doing its fatal work." This I do, Messrs. Editors, not by virtue of any which place all communications, orders and authority in me vested, but in hearty compliance with the wish of these worthy brethren, remittances should be directed. and tsust the suggestion will be earnestly carried out by all the churches. A NOBLE EXAMPLE OF SELF-SACRIFICE. EDITORS APPEAL-George Holst, one of was perfectly exhausted, has gone to a ssful reward. He was a courteous and valiant Knight Templar, a true christian, and an honest man. Yesterday, at eleven me: "Brother Slater, I am glad you have come to see me. I am ready. I have done my duty to my fellow-man, to my country, and to my God. My father taught me to observe 'the golden rule.' I have sought to keep it." In parting with him, he said, 'Farewell, if we never meet on earth' en, pointing significantly upward, h Ided-"let us meet in heaven." afterward he said to Brothers A. J. Wheele and Waynsburg: "Good bye, I am going. My mother taught me the way I should go. E. C. SLATER. DR. WATSON NOT NEGLECTED. EDITORS APPEAL-Your statement in Sunny's issue in regard to the death of Dr. K. Watson is erroneous, and must have ariser from a mistaken identity, as I can account for it in no other way. The facts are these: He was taken with the fever Saturday night, August 24th. I was sent for the next morning, but being assigned to duty at the city ospital did not get the word until late in the evening. His family being absent from the city he went to Mrs. Knight's, 51 Second reet, where I found him. Dr. Sim in the seartime had prescribed for him. Knight was as attentive as she could have een to a father; never left his bedside until he next evening (Monday), when she was aken down with the fever. He was fur ished by the Howards with nurses, wines, ce, etc. I made him three visits on Monday and one at night. When I got to him Tuesday afternoon, at two o'clock, I found him dead—which was no surprise, as his case was most virulent—neatly dressed, etc. Fearing the undertaker might get his body a guard was kept at his door all night. Mr. Hawks had him neatly buried Wednesday morning, at nine o'clock. I make this statement for the sake of his family and friends, and because to me he was a very dear friend. T. J. TYNER, M.D. CONTRIBUTIONS RECEIVED BY THE MAYOR. Hon. H. I.
